

|  |  |             |            |
|--|--|-------------|------------|
| 開講科目名   | Introduction to International Business Law         |             |            |
| 担当教員  | Keith Carpenter、川島 富士雄、James Claxton、玉田 大、齋藤 彰 | 開講区分 | 単位数 |
|  |  | 前期          | 1単位        |
| 授業のテーマと到達目標   |  |             |            |
| 【Theme】 This class is aimed at teaching the basic and fundamental issues of international business law. 【Objectives】 For students who are willing to enlarge their knowledge about business law, international commercial law, international economic law, this class will be a good place to start their study. In this class, students are required to learn the basic notions and structures of the relevant law areas (such as international investment law, law of WTO and law of international transactions).  |  |             |            |
| 授業の概要と計画  |  |             |            |
| 【Outline】 This class is composed of the following lecturers, but subject to some changes of order (depending on the availability of professors). 【Plan】 1st: Introduction, in which all the members of staff and lecturers will attend and will provide students with their backgrounds and basic information about the class and the course itself (especially about the GMAP course) 2nd and 3rd: "What's the law of international transactions and of international arbitration?" (by Professor Saito) 4th: "How to study legal English" (by Professor Carpenter) 5th: "What's the law of international investment?" (by Professor Tamada) 6th: "What's the practice of international arbitration?" (by Professor Claxton) 7th and 8th: "What's WTO Law?" (by Professor Kawashima). |  |             |            |
| 成績評価と基準   |  |             |            |
| 【Evaluation】 Evaluation depends on the attendance to the class and the submission of papers at the end of lectures (namely at the end of the 1st quarter). 【Criteria】 Students are required to know the basic structure of the relevant areas of law and to be able to explain what the difference among them.   |  |             |            |
| 履修上の注意（準備学習・復習、関連科目情報等を含む）  |  |             |            |
| 【Notes】 Students are not required to know "international law" in general. But, it's recommended to know the basic idea of "public international law", "private international law", and "international law of transactions". 【Revision】 It is strongly recommended to revise what students studied in the class. In addition, it is possible for them to ask questions to GMAP lecturers.   |  |             |            |
| オフィスアワー・連絡先   |  |             |            |
| In the starting Information session of this class, all the email addresses will be announced to the attending students. In addition to this, this class is organised by Professor Tamada (tamada&lt;at&gt;port.kobe-u.ac.jp), so if students need to know anything about this class, it is allowed to contact him.  |  |             |            |
| 学生へのメッセージ   |  |             |            |
| Please be relaxed to attend the class. This class is for beginners of international business law. Very fortunately, you can learn the basic international business law at Kobe University and advance further your study in some programmes. So, if you are interested in foreign and international aspects of law, this class can be strongly recommended.   |  |             |            |
| 今年度の工夫  |  |             |            |
| The order of the class is intentionally arranged for starting the public law aspect of international business law. This class was 2 weeks lectures, but from 2016, this became 1 week intensive class. So, students will be able to maintain their concentration in one week.   |  |             |            |
| 教科書   |  |             |            |
| All the necessary materials will be distributed by each lecturer in each class. There is no text book, nor material which students are required to buy or print out before the class.   |  |             |            |
| 参考書・参考資料等   |  |             |            |
|  |  |             |            |
| 授業における使用言語  |  |             |            |
| English  |  |             |            |
| キーワード   |  |             |            |
| History of Japanese Law, corporate law, labour law, legal sociology, social security,  |  |             |            |